

MAY 26 2009

Application Serial No. 10/581,954

Response to Office Action dated November 24, 2008

PATENT

Docket: CU-4863

AMENDMENTS

Amendments To The Abstract

Clean Version

Please delete the currently pending Abstract section and replace it with the following replacement Abstract section:

A method of repelling or deterring slugs using naturally occurring secretions of ground beetle and applying the secretions to a portion of a plant. The secretions of the beetles comprise at least one of methacrylic acid, tiglic acid, crotonic acid, formic acid and acetic acid.